SUMMER YOUTH PERFORMANCE WORKSHOP

The New Jersey Performing Arts Center (NJPAC) officially opened in October 1997. The Center includes Prudential Hall (2,750 seats), Victoria Theater (500 seats), a restaurant, banquet facilities, a gift shop and an outdoor Theater Square. Located on the Newark Riverfront near Gateway Center, Penn Station and the Ironbound District, NJPAC is New Jersey's home-grown success story. World-class performers from every continent appear on the NJPAC stages.

Classes:

The Summer Youth Performance Workshop is NJPAC's five-week, full day program for artistically talented young people, ages 13-18. The program is designed to offer gifted students a unique opportunity to study vocal music, theater and dance with top professionals in each field. The classes are dedicated to giving each student focused, discipline-based instruction in their major. Guest artists and field trips will round out students' experience. In residence at the New Jersey Performing Arts Center, the Summer Youth Performance Workshop is located in the hub of New Jersey's newest location for artistic performances and innovative education programs.

Production of "Carousel":

This collaboration between NJPAC and Westfield Young Artists' Cooperative Theater (WYACT) will allow students (if selected through an audition process) to prepare for a fully-staged musical theater production to be held in NJPAC's Victoria Theater. Rehearsals will take place at NJPAC's facilities. This gives students an opportunity to work first-hand in a professional theater environment.
